

Henry Jimenez

President, Benworth Capital Partners

Henry Jimenez is President of Benworth Capital Partners, a private equity firm based in Florida and Puerto Rico. The company specializes in asset-based financing and operates as a licensed mortgage lender. A founding partner of the firm, Mr. Jimenez has been involved in every aspect of its development since it was established in 2008. Over the past 17 years, he has helped build Benworth Capital into one of Florida's most active and trusted private mortgage lenders.

Mr. Jimenez has more than 25 years of experience in real estate finance, with a focus on portfolio management, asset-based underwriting, and operational strategy. His career began in a family-run lending business, where he gained hands-on experience in structuring deals, evaluating properties, and managing loan performance. At Benworth Capital, he has led initiatives across loan originations, broker partnerships, and long-term investment planning—working to ensure consistent performance and reliability for the firm's clients and stakeholders.

Outside of his professional responsibilities, Mr. Jimenez remains active in civic and nonprofit organizations throughout South Florida. He currently serves on the board of the Kiwanis of Little Havana Foundation and is a Past-President of both The Kiwanis Club of Little Havana and Kiwanis of Little Havana Foundation. Through his long-standing involvement, he has supported programs that fund scholarships, youth mentorship, literacy initiatives, and community events across the region. He also previously served on the board of the Mercy Hospital Foundation.
